A Gift that Gives Back

Looking for holiday gifts or ways to save money during this holiday season? For less than the cost of eating out, consider purchasing a JFS Community Discount Card & support the Anja Rosenberg K kosher Food Pantry and its clients.

The $20 card offers discounts to 12 local restaurants and stores. The deals are valid through November 2016. Use it as many times as you like and take advantage of all the deals. Contact Kim Margolis at kmargolis@jfshartford.org for more information or call 860-236-1927.

Help for Holocaust Survivors and the Hungry

Close to 300 people supported Jewish Family Services' Third Annual Helping Our Hungry Community event with special recognition of the Holocaust Survivors Program at the home of Marcia and Alan Lazowski.

The event raised over $55,000 which directly supports the JFS Anja Rosenberg Kosher Food Pantry and services for its clients. On behalf of the Rosenberg Family, event co-chair Pia Rosenberg Toro expressed, "There are many needs that are dear to our hearts, but nothing is more important to us than children in need, and children that are hungry most of all. We are in awe of the outpouring of support from our community."

"We are so proud of our community's generosity and spirit of giving in this season of miracles. These donations will help tremendously in funding services to Holocaust survivors and the Kosher Food Pantry, as we more than doubled our fundraising expectations to meet basic human needs," explained Judy and David Rosenthal, event co-chairs.

"As the needs continue to grow in greater Hartford, JFS is prepared to address those. We are honored to restore dignity to our clients through our programs and services. Because of the tremendous community we can all embrace possibility this holiday season," said Anne Danaher, JFS Executive Director. Helping Our Hungry Community was sponsored by TD Bank, Max Restaurant Group, BlumShapiro, LAZ Parking and Data-Mail.

Thanksgiving Bounty

This year's Thanksgiving Holiday Food Bags event, coordinated by the Anja Rosenberg Kosher Food Pantry at Jewish Family Services, attracted more than 30 volunteers. They worked for hours packing turkeys and all the trimmings into bags to be delivered to over 100 Food Pantry clients for Thanksgiving.

The campaign ran for several weeks seeking donations of $18, paired with in-kind donations from The Crown Market, which were accepted at The Crown and TD Bank,

"Thank you all for making Thanksgiving possible for me and many others. I appreciate your hard work and generosity," said a Food Pantry client. In addition to the event co-sponsors, Beth El Temple in West Hartford held a collection and donated 80 turkeys to the effort. "It takes a small village to make this happen and we really appreciate all the help," said Shari Cantor, Food Pantry Coordinator.
