Responding to Hunger

By Embracing Our Community

13th Annual Event

We need support now more than ever.

Families who once managed to get by are now turning to Jewish Family Services of Greater Hartford (JFS) for help as new barriers push them past their limits.

At the Anja Rosenberg Kosher Food Pantry, demand continues to rise sharply. Beyond rising grocery prices and inflation, recent cuts to SNAP and Medicaid threaten our social safety nets, leaving families with even fewer resources to cover basic needs and even more fear for the future. Families who were stable just a few years ago are now finding themselves in crisis.

But here's the good news: needs are rising, but so are we. By joining us and contributing what you can, you help ensure that children, parents, and older adults in our community don't go without.

Our annual Responding to Hunger event is not only a time to reflect on the challenges ahead – it's a chance to celebrate the impact we've created together. Every sponsorship or gift, every act of care, makes it possible for JFS to meet rising demand with compassion and dignity.

In this season of generosity and community, we hope we can count on you for support.
